YOUR FOOD SUPPLEMENTS.

Your request - our service.

Information

We use all our expertise to provide full service for “your food supplement” – from concept development to production all the way to filling and packaging.

Do you already have a product idea, but no final recipe yet? We will certainly be able to develop it for you. Sanomed is an expert in developing individual, creative and innovative recipes customized to your requirements. Alternatively, we can modify one of our readymade products for you.

If you do not need support developing your products and already have an existing recipe, we will gladly help you implement it.

Our range of services also includes the production of your liquid. As a contract manufacturer, we will produce your liquid step by step. This involves very precisely weighing the individual raw materials and mixing the product solution by employing complex mixing processes as well as using cutting-edge machine and production technologies. We can also produce in bulk for your further processing.

Sanomed’s high-performance filling machines are also available for your bulk production. Select your optimal size from our wide range of primary and secondary packaging. We will quickly fill and package your pre-mixed liquid formula in the unique outer packaging of your choice employing highest quality standards.

Development, production, filling and packaging – our full-service offering caters to all your needs. We look forward to your inquiries.
